The editor's duties at that time were pressing; but he ventured to to the country his views on the Constitution. To this proposition he assented. Mr. Gales took up his pencil, unaware of this new arranecment, and alike unconscious of the layse of time under the enchantment of the orator, and consequently he wrote on until the close of the ed on the reporter and made inquiry. "I have your service, as I shall never find time to write them out." This led to some remonstrance and persuasion, but the overtasked editor stood firm. Then Mrs. Gales came to his rescue by saying she thought she could declipher her husband shorthand, as she had formerly occasionally done so. Mr. Gales doubted, seeing that it was

But sh had heard the speech, and as the resistless sweep of its arguments and the gorgeous and massive magnificence of its imagery were yet vivid in her mind, she persisted in undertaking the difficult work. In due time thereafter the fair manuscript came to Mr. Webster's hands for final correction. Scarcely a word needed to be changed; and soon a set of diamonds, costing a thousand dollars, accompanied the rich thanks of the eloquent statesman. Thus was saved to literature the most memorable oration of the American Senate.

(From the Chicago Times and Herald, Oct. 6.) JUDGE DOUGLAS IN THE WEST. PHARAOH'S HOSTS OUTNUMBERED! KAn "Army with Banners" in the Field !

At length the tide of popular opinion has set in that is to place beyond all chance or change the result of the present campaign, in the North-west. It was but needed that Judge Douglas should come among us, to fire the hearts of the masses and re-stimulate the old veterans of the party, to render our triumph

The fire that has been kindled by the indefatigable leaders of the Democracy, already, has mounted into a perfect blaze at the bare presence of their gallant chieftain. The magnificent reception of Judge Douglas, Thursday night, and still more the mammoth demonstration of the innumerable host who gathered to greet him yesterday, speak volumes for the spirit and power of his followers. Henceforth we shall march to an assured victory, with gayer hearts and more unfaltering steps. Few would believe the immense furore created by the bare presence of Mr. Douglas. He was born a tribune of the people, and his name has become a household word to the masses of the North-west. His sturdy form has so long and so often led in the van of battle, that the Democracy instinctively follow it, and await the battle cry of "Douglas!" ere they finally close in plume as if it were an index upon the road to a nation, and not leave the opening of the way victory. We know not how to estimate the crowd of yesterday. By acres, certainly, if at all. If we were to take the Republican estimate of the Seward demonstration as a guide, our figures would devour the muster roll of the "grand army." That we had more than twice as many as the Republicans we think no man who has a particle of judgment or candor will deny. We have never seen such a concourse of people at one time. The estimutes of various well inform- and a half "long. ed persons ranged from seventy-five to one hun dred thousand. The former number doubtless approximates the truth, as nearly as may be.

The procession to the rostrum was a grand affair, and is described elsewhere. Gov. Moore. the President of the day, introduced Judge D. to the people amid thunders of applause. The speech of the Judge, will also be reported as length in our columns, and will speak for itself. We give but the common opinion, when we pronounce it the greatest effort of the campaign If not of his life. The day was windy and foggy, and rendered the task of addressing such a vast multitude a herculean labor. but for near two hours the indomitable "Little Giant" poured forth his torrents of eloquent invective and unanswerable argument to the admiring and applanding throng. His physical endurance is suit. That he was successful is evident from the fact that, shortly after his admission to the
